

EXPLORER YACHT · BELOW 500 GRT · MONTENEGRO BASE

THE CONCEPT

Private Yacht Club. Three Members Only.

A NON-PROFIT CLUB. AN OPEN BOOK. A SINGLE EXTRAORDINARY YACHT.

The Private Yacht Club is a novel form of shared ownership, introduced by an experienced yacht owner for the next chapter of his programme. It lies beyond the limits of conventional fractional ownership and timesharing. Three principals jointly acquire a single explorer-class vessel and share thirty-six useable weeks each year — twelve weeks per member — according to a pre-set schedule that rotates among them over a three-year cycle. The club is operated as a non-profit organisation: it bears only its own costs.

Each member decides, without restriction, what to do with those twelve weeks: use them privately, swap weeks with a co-member, place weeks on charter and receive the charter income directly, or buy and sell additional weeks among the three. Matchmaking, charter placement, and concierge services are organised by Concierge Service, the initiating owner's existing management company, under a strict cost-plus, open-book principle. All numbers are open for inspection; no soft costs, no hidden markups.

PRINCIPLE I

Equal Treatment

Every member, every cost, every decision — on the same footing.

PRINCIPLE II

Candid Communication

Direct, unembellished exchange among members and with the manager.

PRINCIPLE III

Fair Treatment

Fair treatment among each other — no side-deals, no advantage-taking.

THE VESSEL

Explorer-Class. 499GRT. Built for Distance.

The club is built around a single purpose-chosen vessel of true explorer pedigree: seaworthy, long-legged, and unshowy, with the range to move between oceans on the members' schedule rather than the charter market's.

THE THREE-YEAR USE CYCLE

Over a three-year cycle, each member receives every week of the active season once. Owners may exchange, buy or sell weeks amongst themselves; any surplus weeks may be placed on the charter market. Peak weeks — July–August in the Mediterranean and Christmas/New Year in the Caribbean — are rotated so that each member receives four peak slots over the three-year period.

Three Members. Three Equal Thirds.

The club is operated as a non-profit organisation; Concierge Service manages on a cost-plus, open-book basis. Each member bears one-third of every fixed number on this page. Individual cruising costs, listed separately, are borne solely by the member using the yacht that week.

Simple Rules. Orderly Decisions.

The club is governed by three central values, a short code of conduct, and four defined exit paths. The intention is to pre-empt disagreement through clear rules agreed in advance.

I Equal Treatment Every member, every cost, every decision — on the same footing.	II Candid Communication Direct, unembellished exchange among members and with the manager.	III Fair Treatment Fair treatment among each other — no side-deals, no advantage-taking.

SIMPLE RULES

CODE OF CONDUCT · NINE RULES
01	Members accept and do not argue about disadvantages of weather and sea (adverse conditions, schedule changes, and the unpredictability of the ocean are inherent to the programme.....).
02	Damage to the yacht not covered by insurance and not caused by an individual owner (lost anchor, generator blow-up, water ingress, fire.....) is borne equally, one-third each.
03	“Super damage” (for example a six-week yacht failure during high season.....) is covered, in order, by: (a) use of un-chartered weeks of the other owners; (b) shoulder weeks before and after high season; (c) cash settlement at the end of year three, by equal treatment, at € 35 K per day.
04	A cruising loss of more than one week due to unplanned interruption is compensated by shoulder-week reallocation or, at the end of the three-year period, by tallying all lost days and settling at € 35 K per day by equal treatment.*
05	Individual damage caused by an owner, not by the crew (a scratch from a diamond ring, a jet-ski collision, an accident ashore.....) is borne in full by that owner.
06	Crew complaints and crew problems are decided by the Captain.
07	Captain-related problems are decided by Concierge Service.
08	Damage caused by third-party charter, where not covered by insurance, is borne equally, one-third each, by way of equal treatment.
09	Any kind of legal argument is deferred, with immediate effect, to the Swiss Court of Arbitration in Geneva.
* Example: A Lost 8 days B Lost 4 days C Lost 0 days. As a result C pays 4 × 35k to A.
